

Providing Aviation Ground Support
Equipment to the Aviation Industry

About A Searle & Co. Ltd

A. Searle Co Ltd have for many years been stockists and suppliers of oil measuring and laboratory testing equipment for many major oil companies.

In more recent years we were encouraged to enter the aviation fuel testing market by many of our clients.

Today we have many contracts to not only supply the Shell Water Detector Capsules, but many other products related to the ground support and fueling of aircraft. With years of experience in supplying a wide range of products to aviation and petroleum industries, our staff are able to identify and source hundreds of products.

We pride ourselves on not only supplying the best quality products but also offering a first class service.

We have large stocks of thermometers, hydrometers, sampling jars, cans, containers, dipping equipment... including the Shell Water Detector Capsules and syringes.

All products supplied by our company are only sourced from quality assured companies.
